How did your parents meet?

Do you believe in love
at first sight?

Do you believe that love is an emotion or a choice?

What do you think determines whether or not someone falls in love with someone else?

Is love different for romantic relationships
compared to familial or platonic relationships?

Do you believe in the concept of "true love" or do you think that love can change over time?

What is love and how do you define it?

Do you believe that love should be unconditional? Or are there certain conditions that should be met in a relationship?
